The past year has been a disastrous one to very many, and few in-Clarksville City Mills' Flour. deed, engaged in mercantile pursuits, have realized the expectations with Excelsion (New York) " which they commenced business one year ago. The great staples of our country are selling at rainously low prices. For the past three years our crops have been very short. Large amounts of money have disappeared, leaving, perhaps, less than one-half the amount that was in the country at the close of the war. The scarcity of money, the present year, will be seriously felt in this community, and the necessity for an economical adjustment of affairs must be apparent to many. We enter upon another year's business with many misgivings as to its prosperity, for we regard the com-mercial horizon rather gloomy; and in view of these facts we deem it proper that we express our firm conviction that our only safety lies in adhering for the future, as in the past, to the Cash system of doing business. Any departure, we are satisfied, will prove hazardous to our interests, nor do we think any benefit would be derived by the community; on the contrary, we believe consumers are now buying their goods 15 to 25 per cent cheaper than if the credit system prevailed. We are aware of the difficulty of selling only for cash, as in many instances it is more convenient for the customer to buy on a credit, and it is often hard to say "no," and not give offence, yet realizing as we do, the absolute necessity to us of the prompt cash system, we commence this year with the fixed purpose of making it to the interest of every one to pay promptly, and we hope thus, by substantially offering a premium for the cash, to do away with all desire to obtain even short credits. In this connection it may not be improper to state, that we hold our salesmen personally responsible for the tickets they make.

We expect to labor more faithfully than ever before to please the public, and to afford the greatest advantages to all, and we humbly claim that a ons, the first or second day after the thorough trial will convince any unprejudiced mind that we offer extra facilities and inducements. We cordially invite all to visit our store. Very respectfully,
